

Christoph Streicher

Christoph Streicher (31) is one of those millennials who make their money with online marketing and media stuff. After studying business administration in Lisbon, he remained loyal to the Iberian Peninsula and has lived in Barcelona for many years. Despite many hours of sunshine and the beach in front of his door, he is always drawn back to the world. How he manages his travels with 30 days of vacation and what happens during them can be heard in the travel podcast "World Tour", which he runs with his school friend Adrian Klie.
